

Some interesting observations from our visit to small towns in India

Simple but, fun and intimate friendships: Hang out with friends on the streets or at mom and pop shop at the neighborhood square (7 rupees for a Sprite daily), go window shopping

Multi purpose use of space

Cooking space = sleeping space

Bedroom = family entertainment space

There is little privacy for the individual

“Where my two feet are, is my own space”

Youth in small towns in India seek creative ways to find media to educate self about modern way of live and living and for personal growth

Stolen Newspaper clippings in schoolbag

Stay fit, your life will be a hit